FOREWORD

—Copied from the General Catalogue published in 1926—

A rather clearly defined period in the life of Castleton Normal School began in September 1921, when the school was re-opened after having been closed for a year. This with the loss by fire of the Main Building in 1924 and the construction of the new Administration Building in its place enlisted general attention, a new interest in the Institution and the part that it must play in meeting the demands of the State today.

It has seemed to the Alumni and to those officially associated with the School that this was a fitting time to issue a revised register of the Alumni of the School from its beginning as a Normal School in 1867 to today.

This volume embodies the proceedings of the Laying of the Cornerstone and the subsequent Dedication of the Administration Building together with a relatively complete list and the present addresses of all those now living who have graduated from the school. In the list since 1921 there is also included in addition to graduates, the names of those who have completed one year only.

Some errors will have been made and those who have assisted in its compilation will be grateful if corrections are reported to the President of the Alumni Association or the Principal of the School.

(This was compiled by Philip R. Leavenworth who was Principal of the school, 1897-1912, and it was published in 1926 by The Tuttle Company, Rutland Vermont)

PREFACE

(To the volume published in May 1937)

With the hope that this volume may be followed every tenth year by a general catalogue arranged in similar form, it has been the purpose of the compilers, to bring to date the names and addresses of all graduates of the institution from the time it became a State Normal School in 1867 until today.

It follows, in general, the form used in the last general catalogue published in 1926, recording the faculties of the school associated with the various administrations, and the classes chronologically. In the old school, 1867 to 1920, for several years there were two classes graduated annually—one in January and one in July, and there were also, for several years, an upper and a lower course. These are so recorded in the 1926 edition and are available for reference. However, since many errors have been noted, due to the loss of records by the fire of 1924, it has seemed wise to combine these in one year.

In the new school, 1921 to 1937, there will also be confusion due to the fact that (1) the graduates include those receiving degrees after four years of study, established in June 1936, (2) those graduating from the third year course, established in 1933, and (3) those graduating from the second year course.

In both the old school and the new there were many who were in attendance one year, but were not graduates. These names are not listed, but may be considered as Alumni.

It will be considered a great favor if those noting errors in this volume will report the same in writing to the office, so that corrections may be made for the next issue.

THE OLD SCHOOL SONG

(Tune, Men of Harlech)

I.

As th' encircling hills that guard thee,
High, immovable and steadfast,
So our hearts shall be devoted,
Loyal to the last.
O'er the school we love and honor
May the stars above shine brightly;
And the passing years tread lightly
Through its hallowed halls.

Chorus:

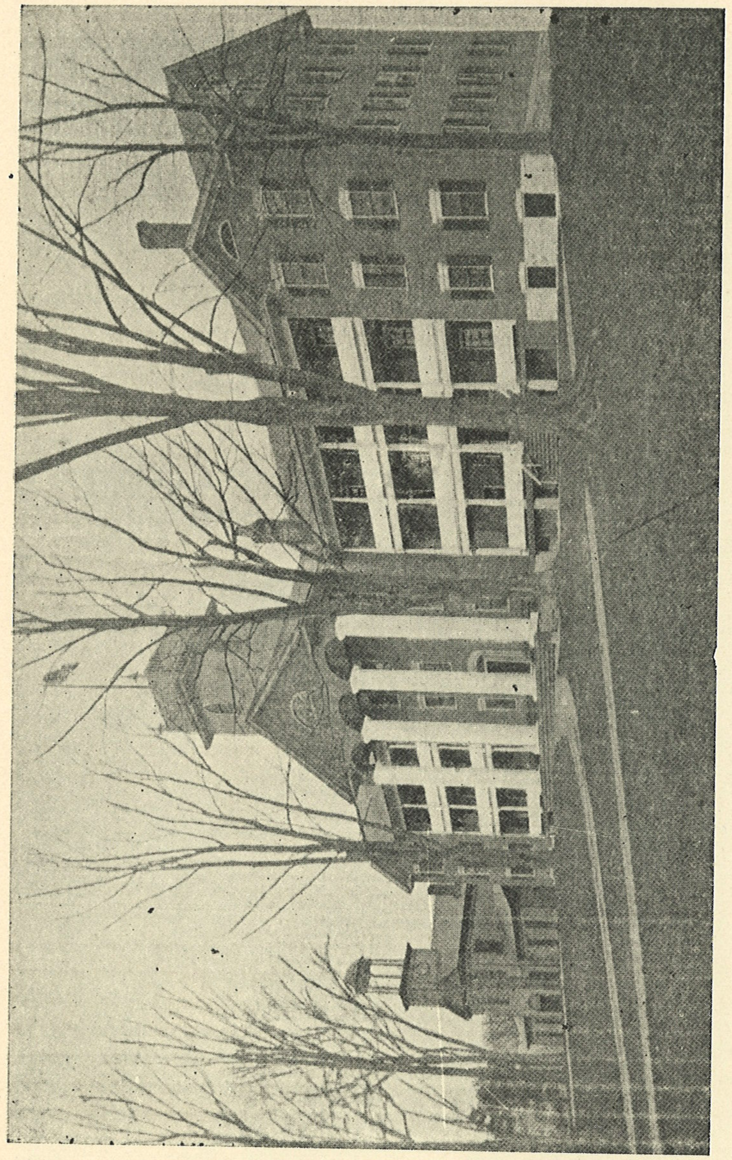
As we lift our voices,
Every heart rejoices,
Tuned to praise our voices raise
In songs of true devotion.
To be loyal, our endeavor,
To this dear old school forever
Though from thee we soon must sever,
Dear old C. N. S.

II.

Year by year a band of teachers
Forth have gone with hearts courageous
In the world to teach the lessons
Learned at C. N. S.
Though they far and wide are scattered
Fondest memories still awaken
And their trust remains unshaken
In this school so dear.

Chorus:

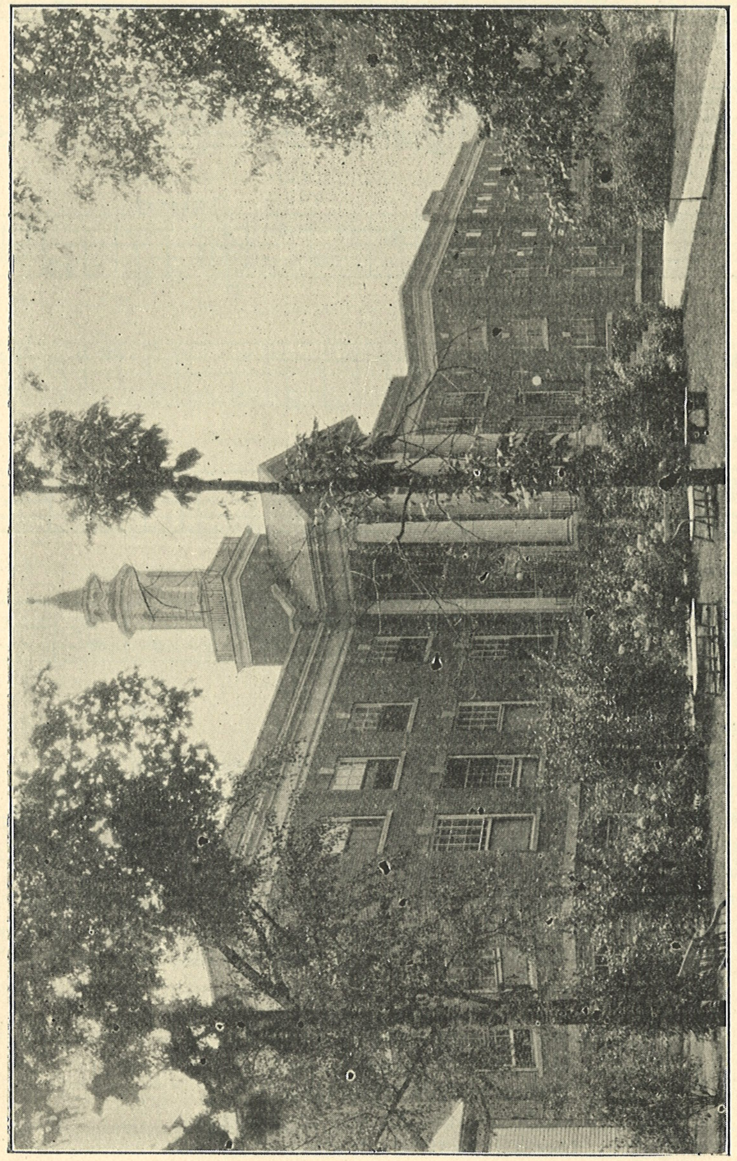
HELEN FLOWER, 1912.



THE OLD NORMAL SCHOOL
(Destroyed by fire, January 3, 1924)

And the glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former.

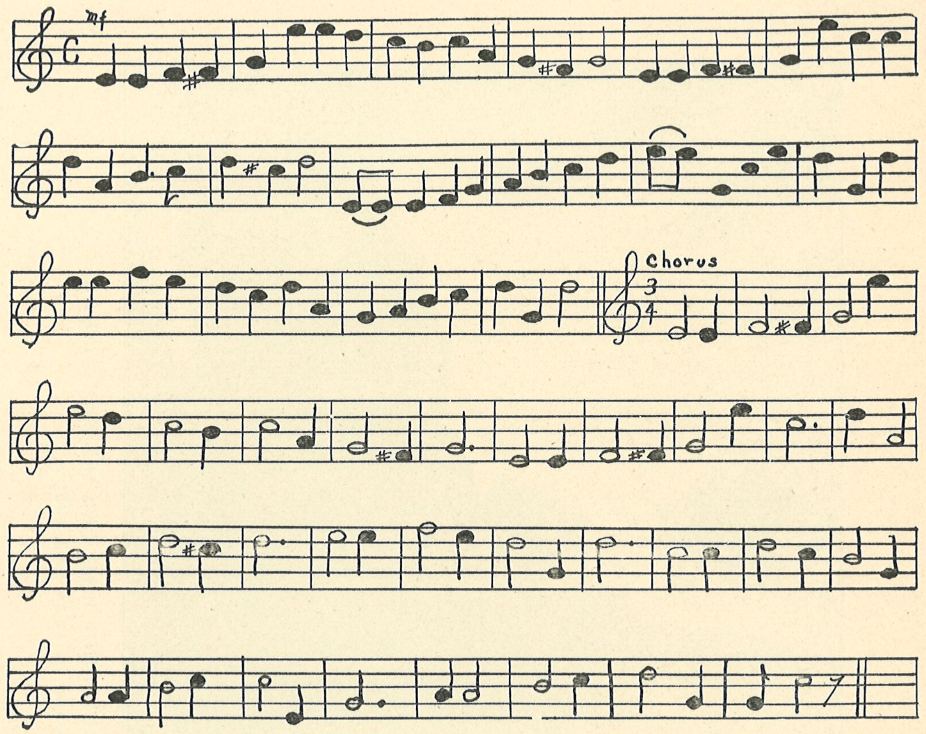
—Haggai 2:9



ADMINISTRATION BUILDING AND LEAVENWORTH HALL
(Erected in 1925 and 1929)

ALMA MATER

Words by Katherine Burt, 1928 Melody by Eloise Blanchard, 1928



I.

When the shadowy dusk comes stealing
O'er the sloping mounts of green,
Gently in its silken garments
Night enshrouds with lustrous sheen.
Mother of teachers, shining o'er us,
Let thy light pierce every gloom;
Stately radiance ever gleaming,
Quickening thoughts to heights anew.

II.

Listen to our voices, Mater,
As we tribute bring to thee.
Glorious birthright ever giving,
Fruited toil thine honor be.
Bless us ever, Alma Mater,
Blessing eternal, give us now,
Touching each our lives forever,
As with reverent heads we bow.

CHORUS:

Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
Loving mother, ever near,
While throughout the distances
Circle round thy children dear,
Clasping hands in fellowship.
Alma Mater! Loving Mother!
Clasping hands in fellowship.
Alma Mater! Loving Mother!

FACULTIES OF THE CASTLETON NORMAL SCHOOL

1867 . . . 1937

There will be omissions and inaccuracies due to the loss by fire in 1924 of practically all official records up to that year.

The compilers have spared no effort in bringing these early records to date and they ask your assistance in correcting any errors.

The House Journal (March 24, 1927. Pages 535 and 536)
—Read by Senator Edward A. Ellis—

Mr. Leavenworth of Castleton rose to a point of personal privilege, and spoke as follows:

"House bill No. 10 was a source of deep anxiety to me, and I am quite positive that if it were not for the fact that my locks were sparse and grey when I became a member of this House, that they certainly would be at this time. That burden was relieved when this House voted to pass that bill. It was still further relieved when the Senate passed the bill, almost unanimously, and tonight it has been entirely relieved when it has come in from the Governor. My cup runneth over. Fellow-members, in behalf of the students at present and to come, in behalf of the teachers, the principal and the members of the Alumni Association of the Castleton Normal School, I wish to express to you their heartfelt gratitude for their appreciation of the needs of your school, and in their name I extend to each and everyone of you the most cordial invitation to visit your school at any time, and more especially would I like to extend to you and the members of your family, at this time, a special invitation to visit Castleton on the 13th or 14 day of next June, when there is to be staged on that campus a pageant which will be held in honor of the 140th Anniversary of the opening of the school, and the 60th Anniversary of the founding of the State Normal School at this point. The pageant will depict the history and development of education, as well as events that took place in that section 150 years ago, and I can assure you of a most hearty welcome if any of you see fit to be present at that or any other time. Again I thank you.

Contents of the Cornerstone

In 1787 the first Cornerstone of this school was laid by Legislative enactment of the new State while it was still a Commonwealth. In that Cornerstone we have no record that material things were deposited to be enumerated here, but it was indeed the foundation stone of this as an institution of learning.

Another Cornerstone was laid on July 4, 1829 when by the firing of cannon and ringing of bells the people of this countryside were summoned for a great occasion and the old brick building which stood for ninety-five years on yonder spot was reared. The Declaration of Independence was read by Zimri Howe and the address of the day was by the Hon. Solomon Foote, then the principal of the school. The stone was set in place by two Revolutionary soldiers, Col. Noah Lee, who was present at the surrender of Cornwallis and Lieut. Elias Howe, who was at Burgoyne's surrender. The old crumbling stone with the date crudely carved, was found within the ruins of the great fire of 1924 and now rests beneath the white marble block forming the Cornerstone of the new Administration Building which was laid August 23, 1924.

Again a Cornerstone we lay and when in ages yet to come this block of marble shall give up its treasure there will be found within it:—

Presentation of Cornerstone of Leavenworth Hall
(Addressing Gov. Weeks)

Honored Sir, those interested in this State Normal Training School have honored me, as the Architect of their new Buildings by asking me to presesnt to you this silver trowel, with which you have kindly consented to lay the Cornerstone of this new Dormitory Building.

Ladies and Gentlemen, This trowel is incribed with the name of the late Philip R. Leavenworth and—as most of us know—was first used by Ex. Gov. Proctor to lay the Cornerstone of the Present Administration Building.

For such a purpose, I think, it was most appropriate that Mr. Leavenworth should present a trowel to this Educational Institution, in which he was so supremely interested, for he was a Master Mason and knew well the Masonic significance and uses of the Trowel.

Mr. Leavenworth had a worthy Masonic record and was Past Master of Lee Lodge No. 30 of this village and was also District Deputy Grand Master of the 4th Masonic District; he had endeared himself to the Members of his own Lodge and to the Fraternity generally.

Although, alas, he is no more with us and there are now no designs upon his treasle board and the working tools have dropped from his grasp forever, yet we see here in those buildings the consummation of his efforts to obtain for this institution the building equipment it so sorely needed to carry on its good work.

As a tribute to his memory and in recognition of his efforts and work on behalf of this School, the State Board of Education have resolved to call the new Dormitory Building after him,—Leavenworth Hall.

Honored Sir, it gives me great pleasure to present to you this silver trowel with which I respectfully ask that you will well and truly lay this white marble cornertone, upon the level, by the plumb and upon the square.

—Arthur H. Smith

Laying of the Cornerstone

I declare this stone to be well and truly laid.

This event today marks one more milestone in the progress of education in Vermont. More than that, it is a definite and material sign of the growth and development of a school that, over a long period of years, has made a most creditable record and rendered yeoman service in the adequate training of teachers for the youth in the schools of our State.

The laying of this cornerstone is indeed a happy event for the Castleton Normal School, an institution that is as youthful and progressive in its aims and ideas as it is venerable in its years and traditions. May the splendid building which will rise from this cornerstone serve as an inspiration for greater achievement in the important field of work to which Castleton has made so valuable a contribution.

—John E. Weeks, Governor.

Inspection of Building

From the Rutland Herald, September 23, 1928

The dedication speech given by Commissioner of Education, Clarence H. Dempsey, was preceded by an address by Governor Weeks in which he spoke of the man who was responsible for the State appropriation which made the building possible. Mr. Dempsey spoke of the history of the school and linked it with the history of the State, from its founding, over 100 years ago, to the present and added that the new hall would complete a group of buildings of which the State could be proud.

Presentation of Keys

Mr. President;

At the laying of the foundation stone of Leavenworth Hall, as Architect for the building, I had the honor of presenting to Governor Weeks the silver trowel with which he duly and truly laid the foundation stone of the new building. Since that time I have had many designs upon my treasleboard and the craft have kept diligently at their labors, making it possible for us to present today, the completed building.

I wish at this time to acknowledge the efforts of all those who have been associated with me in the production of this fine building, which I venture to say is second to none for its intended purpose.

Mr. Noyes, Donor Leclair, the patient and obliging super, contributing their part.

We of Rutland County have pride in this Castleton Normal School with its worthy record and history; such an institution is bound to grow both in usefulness and size and if you will pardon me Mr. Chairman I will venture to hope that some day we will see Leavenworth Hall balanced on the East by a Caroline Woodruff Hall, where the present Chapel building now stands, with a new two story Chapel Building, on the side, to East or West thus completing the Campus and a worthy Architectural composition.

Mr. Chairman, I have the honor and pleasure to present to you the keys of the building as a symbol of the completion of our labors and I beg to offer the Building with the hope that the spirit of Knowledge, Happiness and Good Luck will enter Leavenworth Hall with those who are to make it their home.

—Arthur H. Smith, Architect

Acceptance of Keys

We are living in a momentous period in the World's history, in the Nation's history, a momentous period in the history of our own state. This school is a dynamic part of the State, a contributing element in the great forward movement toward a better Vermont. This is a momentous day in the development of this school as an instrument in training those who shall guide the children, the future citizenry of Vermont—a service than which there is no higher.

This is but another of the great days in the history of this institution which had its birth in 1787, coincidental with the constitutional birth of our nation, and which with the exception of one year has had an uninterrupted service under various names from that day until now.

Another momentous day was July 4, 1829, when the ringing of bells and the firing of cannon announced the laying of the cornerstone, by the Hon. Solomon Foote, of the old brick building destroyed by fire in 1924—that old cornerstone now lying beneath the cornerstone of this present Administration Building.

1867 marked another period in its onward march, when Vermont made of it a State Normal School, adding at that time the old Vermont Medical College building to serve as its chapel.

In September, 1921, having been closed for a year, the old school swung open its doors again and the old bell in its tower rang in a new period of development and it too was a momentous day. So, indeed, was the early hour of January 4, 1924 when that disastrous fire laid in ashes the old building which had stood for almost a century mellowed and beautiful with age—it with all its contents. This seemed to some the end of all that had been for one hundred and thirty-seven years—others saw in it a challenge to a new birth and the Castleton Normal School buildings which we have today by Acts of the Legislative Assembly, together with the one hundred twenty-five young people, who constitute the student body, a teaching staff unsurpassed in any New England Normal School, these are a living demonstration of the reality of their faith. This beautiful Administrative Building, classic in form, the Old Chapel, with its little Greek temple for a tower—all that remains of the original material equipment—and now the commodious new dormitory, which today we dedicate in memory of that distinguished family which, through father and son, longer than any other, directed the destiny of this school—these three stand today prophetic of a bigger and better service for the State than any yet has been.

And this is not all—for where is life there is growth and the Castleton Normal School with all these has not yet reached its zenith and it must go on increasing in power and influence. A greater day lies ahead and already is seen upon the horizon that which tells of further expansion, which as dreams and plans are realized will call this great audience yet again to other occasions similar to this.

Today, the culmination of a great effort—the day to which we have looked forward with eager hearts—today, Mr. President, as the representative of this school, I accept these keys, symbol of the setting free of all the great creative forces that shall unlock for the coming years all that is finest and best in this old new institution, to do its part in the great movement for the betterment of the State of Vermont—the Castleton Normal School.

—Caroline S. Woodruff, Principal

Presentation of Bronze Tablet

"The spirit only can teach—
Not any sensual, not any liar can teach,
He only can create who is,
He only can give who has,
He on whom the Gods descend,
Through whom the soul speaks, can teach.

But he who aims to speak as synods council
Or fashions dictate, babbles, let him hush."

We had in Castleton two men who taught—Captain Abel Edgar Leavenworth and his son, Philip Reynolds Leavenworth. On behalf of the faculty who worked with these men it gives me great pleasure to present this tablet in loving memory.
